Constellations

Thursday, September 16, 2010 / 8-9 PM / Ars Electronica Center

(Linz, September 14, 2010) Shooting stars as “the gods pointing their fingers”; promising constellations highlighting the birth of one destined for greatness or serving as signposts to guide travelers across deserts and oceans—the heavens have always has a special significance for humankind. The Ars Electronica Center and Dietmar Hager cordially invite you to a Deep Space LIVE dedicated to the starry night sky on Thursday, September 16, 2010 at 8 PM. Dietmar Hager is a micro-surgeon on the staff of Linz General Hospital and a fellow of the Royal Astronomical Society. He has been a practitioner of astrophotography for more than 20 years, and has published his images in international scientific journals, textbooks and educational videos.

Deep Space LIVE

The Ars Electronica Center is now hosting a Deep Space LIVE event every Thursday (except holidays) at 8 PM. Each presentation will feature ultra-high-definition imagery in 16x9-meter format and will be accompanied by expert commentary, entertaining stand-up repartee, and musical improvisation. Whether great works from the history of art, space travel, journeys of discovery in the Nanoworld, or a live concert is what you’ve come to behold, Deep Space LIVE stands for enlightening entertainment amidst breathtaking worlds of imagery. Admission (including an accompanying person) is €2. Holders of a valid Museum ticket are admitted free of charge.
