

Deep Space LIVE

Irgendwo (Somewhere)

November 4, 2010 / 8 PM / Ars Electronica Center

(Linz, November 2, 2010) "Irgendwo" (Somewhere) is a photographic exhibition accompanied by live music. The pictures are divided into six chapters. They show different parts of the world, very diverse moods and highly contrasting settings for human life. "Irgendwo" is an extremely personal journey—one that takes place in the minds of those beholding these images. Everyone chooses his/her own route and ultimate destination. The live musical accompaniment is provided by Hermann Erber and Chris Herman.

Hermann Erber

Hermann Erber is a photographer. His works have earned him 1st Place awards at international photo competitions in Canada (Banff Mountain Festival; Mountain Photo Contest in Vancouver). Hermann Erber's pictures have graced the pages of such renowned magazines as National Geographic and GEO. In addition to his work as a photographer, Hermann Erber plays the drums.

Chris Herman

Chris Herman teaches at a polytechnic school. He's also a guitarist, and has played in numerous bands over the last 30 years.

Deep Space LIVE

The Ars Electronica Center is now hosting a Deep Space LIVE event every Thursday (except holidays) at 8 PM. Each presentation will feature ultra-high-definition imagery in 16x9-meter format and will be accompanied by expert commentary, entertaining stand-up repartee, and musical improvisation. Whether great works from the history of art, space travel, journeys of discovery in the Nanoworld, or a live concert is what you've come to behold, Deep Space LIVE stands for enlightening entertainment amidst breathtaking worlds of imagery. Admission (including an accompanying person) is €2. Holders of a valid Museum ticket are admitted free of charge.
