

Deep Space LIVE

The Frugal Universe

Thursday, January 5, 2012 / 8 PM / Ars Electronica Center Linz

(Linz, January 3, 2012) All eyes will once again be on the skies at the next Deep Space LIVE this Thursday, January 5, 2012 at 8 PM. Astrophotographer Dietmar Hager will show how the universe's cosmic recycling processes work and what we Earthlings can learn from this as we go about dealing more carefully and efficiently with our planet's energy resources.

Dietmar Hager

Dietmar Hager is a micro-surgeon at Linz General Hospital and a Fellow of the Royal Astronomical Society. He has been involved in astrophotography for over 20 years, during which time his images have been published in professional journals and textbooks. In early 2011, he was named the Ars Electronica Center's astronomical counselor.

Deep Space LIVE

The Ars Electronica Center is now hosting a Deep Space LIVE event every Thursday (except holidays) at 8 PM. Each presentation will feature ultra-high-definition imagery in 16x9-meter format and will be accompanied by expert commentary, entertaining stand-up repartee, and musical improvisation. Whether great works from the history of art, space travel, journeys of discovery in the Nanoworld, or a live concert is what you've come to behold, Deep Space LIVE stands for enlightening entertainment amidst breathtaking worlds of imagery. Admission is €2. Holders of a valid Museum ticket are admitted free of charge.
