

Deep Space LIVE: Linz during the Time of Kepler

Thursday, February 22, 2018 / 7-8 PM

(Linz, February X, 2018) This coming Thursday, February 22nd at 7 PM, Maria Altrichter of the municipal archive will host a trip back in time to Linz in the days when Johannes Kepler lived here. She'll screen sketches, painting and engravings that give an idea of everyday life in the city in the early 17th century, and accompany the images with fascinating details about urban development. Her talk will also provide a historical overview of an epoch characterized by a Habsburg family feud between brothers Rudolf II and Matthias, as well as the political and religious consequences of the Counter-Reformation.

Maria Altrichter

Maria Altrichter was born in 1980 in Upper Austria. After high school, she studied history and archival science in Vienna. Maria Altrichter has been on the staff of the Archives of the City of Linz since 2009.

Deep Space LIVE

The Ars Electronica Center hosts a Deep Space LIVE event every Thursday (except holidays) at 7 PM. Each presentation features ultra-high-definition imagery in 16x9-meter format and is accompanied by expert commentary, entertaining stand-up repartee, or musical improvisation. Whether great works from the history of art, space travel, journeys of discovery in the nano-world or a live concert is what you've come to behold, Deep Space LIVE stands for enlightening entertainment amidst breathtaking worlds of imagery. Holders of a valid Museum ticket are admitted free of charge.
