

Benefit Concert in the Ars Electronica Center's Deep Space

Among Like-Minded People

(Linz, March 10, 2022) Classical music aficionados take note! On Monday, March 14, 2022, musicians from the Brucknerorchester Linz will bring chamber music to Deep Space as part of a benefit concert for SOS Menschenrechte. The program includes pieces by Felix Mendelssohn Bartholdy, Edwin York Bowen and Friedrich Hermann. Start is at 19:00, admission is free. The concert is supported by LINZ AG.

MOSAİK: The Chamber Music Series of the Bruckner Orchestra Linz

Due to a pandemic, chamber music last year returned almost unnoticed to its historical roots: making music in a small circle. Originally in the rooms of aristocrats, this practice reached bourgeois circles in the 18th century, but not until a good 100 years later did it find its way into concert halls. With Mosaik, the chamber music series of the Bruckner Orchestra Linz, the musicians are now leaving their "chambers" again to perform for a wider audience. The concert proceeds of the series are donated in their entirety to charitable institutions.
